

Earth Day: Lost to History

Human activity changes the lives of more than just human beings. Humans domesticate animals, hunt them for food and sport, introduce them to new territory—and even wipe them out entirely.

Draw a line from each North American bird below to the year when the last known specimen died.

Dusky Seaside Sparrow

1914

Passenger Pigeon

1878

Carolina Parakeet

1918

Labrador Duck

1987